Conditional offers for Year 11 entry pathways

Students applying for entry via Year 11 pathways may receive early conditional offers from the universities.

Conditional offers are not part of SATAC's published offer round schedule. The institutions send the offers, not SATAC.

SATAC will formalise offers for successful applicants from 12 January.

Flinders University and the University of Adelaide are offering Year 11 admission pathways for 2023 entry.

Information about the pathways is available from the institutions.

Year 12 information sessions

SATAC's information sessions for students currently in Year 12 will take place throughout this term to align with the opening of the 2023 admission cycle.

Various topics, including the SATAC application process, university aggregate/ATAR calculation, undergraduate admission pathways, and the selection process will be covered.

Confirmations for schools who have registered for one of these sessions have been emailed out, and we look forward to presenting to your students in the coming weeks.

International Baccalaureate Admissions Score (IBAS)

Students completing the IB Diploma in South Australia or the Northern Territory in 2022 will receive an IB Admissions Score (IBAS) from SATAC. The IBAS will add decimal places to each student's diploma score based on their average performance within each band of their subject results.

SATAC will email students with their IBAS after their IB results have been released and provided to SATAC.

Schools in SA offering the IB Diploma will receive further communications about this process.
