

Document details for semester 2 2019 entry

There are different types of documentation required for different qualifications. Refer to the Documents section of your application where you will find a list of the qualifications for which you must provide documentation.

For each type of study listed e.g. school studies, university studies, click on the links in the menu below for details.

Note, you are not required to submit any documentation in support of a TAFE SA Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) result, nor a Special Tertiary Admissions Test (STAT) result. Resumes, CVs and references are not used when assessing your application so please do not provide them.

General information

Supporting documents should be provided within 3 days of submitting your application.

There may be delays in assessing your qualifications if you do not supply the correct documentation in support of your application, which may affect your chances of receiving an offer to a course.

You may choose to attach documents electronically to your SATAC application. The online instructions will take you through the process.

If you choose to post or bring documents to SATAC in person, rather than provide documents electronically, please attach a copy of your cover sheet which clearly shows your current name and your SATAC reference number. This will ensure your documents are matched to the correct TAFE SA application in our database.

If you are required to provide documents for current year studies, submit these as soon as they are available.

Studies undertaken overseas

If any of your documents are in a language other than English, you must submit a copy of both the original document and the full translation. All translations must be certified by an independent accredited translator.

Original documents

Do not send irreplaceable originals e.g. your year 12 certificate or degree parchment. Photocopies of your documents are sufficient. SATAC does not return documents, nor does it keep documents submitted in previous years.

SATAC does not accept copies of results downloaded from the internet as proof of qualifications.

Statutory Declaration

If you are unable to obtain a copy of the qualification from the organisation that awarded it, you may make a Statutory Declaration signed in the presence of a Justice of the Peace. The declaration must contain the following information:

- when you obtained the original qualification
- name and location of the educational organisation
- which subjects/topics you studied and what your results were
- the circumstances which now prevent your access to the records.

The Statutory Declaration will not be accepted if it is incomplete.

Please note that there are significant legal penalties for making false claims in a Statutory Declaration.

University studies

Vocational studies

School studies – year 12 or equivalent

In many cases SATAC will be able to obtain results from recent Australian year 12 studies on your behalf.

You will need to provide SATAC with a copy of your certificate of completion showing all subjects and results if:

- your year 12 studies were completed overseas, or
- you completed a non-standard year 12 such as Steiner School or School of Tomorrow; or
- your year 12 studies were completed prior to the years listed in the table below.

Documents required for school studies

State	Year

School studies

Vocational studies

University studies

University studies include Bachelor Degrees, Associate Degrees, postgraduate studies and bridging or foundation courses.

In many cases, such as recent university study undertaken in Australia, SATAC can obtain results on your behalf. For some qualifications, such as study undertaken overseas, you will need to provide supporting documents.

If you need to provide SATAC with documents for your university qualification it will be listed in the Documents section of your application.

You must supply an academic transcript which shows all subjects undertaken and results achieved (including withdrawals and failures) together with a grading key. You can obtain this from the student records office of the institution at which you studied. If the course is complete, you must also provide a copy of the award parchment (i.e. your certificate of graduation).

Cross-institutional study

If you have undertaken any cross-institutional study i.e. one or more subjects at a different university from where you are undertaking the majority of your studies, you must supply a copy of the transcript for your cross-institutional studies because these results will often not be included with the results from your 'home' university.

Supplementary exam results

SATAC cannot obtain the results of supplementary examinations on your behalf. You will need to provide copies of your results to SATAC, although the results may be too late to affect the outcome of your application.

School studies

University studies

Vocational studies

Vocational studies (certificates or trade courses) refer to nationally accredited award courses (since 1996), or courses of significant length (2 months or more full-time study), undertaken through TAFE or another Registered Training Organisation (RTO).

TAFE/VET award course already completed

If you have already completed an award course, either in SA or interstate, you must supply a copy of the parchment (the certificate given to you at graduation) or an official transcript from the institution which confirms that you have completed the course.

Currently studying and due to complete an award before commencing your next course

Should you receive an offer to any of your selected preferences, it will be made wholly or partly based on your claim that the award will be complete. Any offer will therefore be conditional upon you verifying this claim with the Course Coordinator, prior to enrolment. The contact details for your Course Coordinator will either be printed on your offer letter or forwarded to you shortly afterwards.

The documents you provide must show that you have completed all course requirements and have graduated, or are currently eligible to graduate. This will usually be a certificate (parchment) or an official letter from the institution confirming that you have successfully completed the course. You should contact your institution to obtain these documents.
